

McGill Health Dialogue

Better Communication for Better Care

The Training and Retention of Health Professionals Project

Investing in the Vitality of the English-speaking Communities of Québec

The McGill Project supports more than a hundred initiatives that aim to build equitable access to health and social services in English in all regions of Québec

Projects are part of the following Measures
 Measure 1: Language training program
 Measure 2: Retention and distance support program
 Measure 3: Research program

- Measure 1
- ▲ Measure 2
- ▲● Measures 1 & 2
- Population with English as first official language spoken

Projection: NAD 83, Lambert Conformal Conic
 Sources: McGill University's Training and Human Resources Development Project, 2007-08 and Statistics Canada, 2006
 Author: Laura-Lee Bolger, JW COMM INC., March 2008

*Total population of Québec with English as first official language spoken: 994,658. At publication, population numbers for Terres-Cries-de-la-Baie-James and Nunavik were not available; they are included in the Nord-du-Québec population number.

www.mcgill.ca/hssaccess